

AIDS Public Health Posters

<http://www.nlm.nih.gov/exhibition/visualculture/hivaidsintro.html>

This collection of poster art is housed at the U.S. National Library of Medicine, which has one of the largest collections of public health posters in the world. These posters were created by activist organisations in the face of a government and its public health sector that was reluctant to confront AIDS as a disease that could affect anyone, not just gay men or drug addicts. These particular posters selected were part of a larger online exhibit on poster art and health at the National Library of Medicine.